Federal funds $41,749,899
Total $65,092,786

Mission and philosophy
To provide a flexible and responsive continuum of services, which enable Wyoming senior citizens to age-in-place with maximum dignity and independence. Towards this objective, the aging division advocates, plans, coordinates, administers and evaluates statewide policies and programs relating to adults.

The division is committed to building a sound policy and program infrastructure that anticipates the 21st century. The division is the sole state agency responsible for coordinating and providing a focal point for statewide efforts on behalf of Wyoming’s older adults.

Results of outcomes

Overall, the aging division has accomplished the following:

Administration
The 56th Legislature passed the long-term care reform bill titled Senate File 44. This legislation mandates the division to conduct two nursing home Medicaid reimbursement studies. The bill also increases the number of qualified individuals who may receive services in the division’s Long-term Care/Home and Community-Based Services Waiver Program from 850 to 1000. Senate File 44 also provides for a pilot program that provides Medicaid waiver funding for 100 qualified individuals residing in assisted-living facilities. This is a first for Wyoming, and fills a gap in Wyoming’s continuum of long-term care. The last part of Senate File 44 addresses increasing the “personal needs allowance” for Medicaid recipients residing in nursing facilities from $30 to $50 a month. This legislation was effective July 1, 2001.

The division completed a five-year Arthritis Action Plan for People with Arthritis (PWA). The goal of the Wyoming Arthritis Action Plan is to reduce the occurrence, impairment, activity limitation and restrictions in social participation because of arthritis and other rheumatic conditions in Wyoming. The division chose three target populations for intervention strategies including persons affected by arthritis ages 45 to 64, healthcare providers, and the general public.

Improving quality of life
The division completed its second year with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention grant, “Reducing the Impact of Arthritis and Other Rheumatic Conditions.” With nearly 24.4 percent of the Wyoming population having arthritis, and with arthritis the leading cause of disability in the United States, this grant is attempting to improve the quality of life of Wyomingites suffering from arthritis. The arthritis program is building partnerships with organizations and individuals with vested interests in arthritis to address the burden of arthritis throughout Wyoming. It is also dispelling myths and raising awareness about arthritis, its risk factors, prevention, importance of early diagnosis, appropriate treatment and self-management.

The division applied for a Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMMS), formerly known as Health Care Financing Administration (HFCA), “Systems Change Grant for Community Living.” The division’s grant is the ‘‘Nursing Facility Transitions.’’ The purpose of the grant is to help eligible individuals make the transition from nursing facilities into the community.

The aging division continues to enhance the capability of its comprehensive data collection and reporting system, which allows the division and its Title III grantees to meet the mandatory federal reporting requirements.

The division assumed the responsibility for the program administration rules for assisted living facilities.

The division continues to expand its Web page to provide a continuum of information to individuals, care givers and professionals. Services, events, topics and links to government sites of interest tailored to seniors are just a few of the items posted on the division Web page.

During May, the division held the 2001 Governor’s Conference on Aging in Casper. More than 300 attendees participated in the event, which had a professional and consumer track. The Northwest Geriatric Education Center presented a full day of gerontological workshops. An “Outstanding Older Worker” was honored as well as an older individual whose name was placed on the Wyoming Senior Citizen Hall of Fame plaque in recognition for outstanding contributions to the state.

The division helped organize and support Wyoming’s 2000 Silver-haired Legislature (SHL), which 39 SHL representatives and numerous volunteers participated. Sixteen bills and 29 resolutions covering a wide range of topics were considered. Of those, 12 bills and 22 resolutions were passed by the SHL.

Senior care
The National Family Caregiver Support Program, a new program under the Older American Act, was developed by the division. The purpose of this statewide program is to provide assistance to family caregivers caring for functionally dependent elderly or cognitively impaired older adult relatives. The program’s goal is to reduce caregiver stress and burden through benefits and resource counseling, training in caregiving skills and knowledge, creative options for respite care, and providing supplemental services on a limited basis. The program was launched July 1, 2001.

The Community-based In-home Services Program continues to serve clients in their homes. The program provided more than 97,565 hours of services to 2,673 clients. In July 2000, the division implemented a new payment system based on the actual expenditures of each provider.

The division developed a new educational program titled “Sensitivity Training.” This hands-on workshop allows participants from all disciplines the opportunity to experience the effects of aging and to enhance their communication skills with today’s seniors. Addressing the growing concerns of elder abuse, the workshop also encompasses prevention, identification and reporting of elder abuse. To date, 176 people have completed the training, representing disciplines from nursing homes, pharmacies, community swimming pools, and home and community-based case management agencies.

The 7th Annual Long-term Care/Home and Community-Based Services Waiver (LTC/HCBS) Case Manager Conference was held in Casper in April 2001, with 96 attendees. The theme was “A Case Manager’s Toolkit.” Several of the aging division staff members participated as presenters.

On July 1, 2000, the LTC/HCBS waiver was expanded to provide coverage for an additional 150 qualified individuals. Skilled nursing was added to the list of LTC/HCBS waiver services.

The Assisted Living Facilities Program Administration Rules and Home Health Program Administration Rules were rewritten with the assistance of the Office of Health Quality. The Assisted Living Facility Rules were filed June 28, 2001.

Centenarian awards were issued to 22 Wyoming residents turning 100 years of age.

The Mental Wellness Program has been in place for more than three years under the aging division. The division promotes mental wellness, and helps to educate the public on mental health and the older adult. The Mental Wellness Program offers the “Growing Wiser” program on memory, mental alertness and good mental health; “Mental Wellness for Everyone” concentrates on depression and suicide; “Facts About Alzheimer’s” discusses signs and stages of Alzheimer’s disease, caregiver’s stress and how to communicate with a person with Alzheimer’s disease; “Dementia and Behavioral Disturbances” discusses what dementia is and issues due to behavioral, cognitive and personality changes. The “Gatekeepers Train-the-trainer Program” helps local communities become aware of the signs of an older person at risk and how to prevent premature institutionalization. These programs have been presented to senior centers, assisted living facilities, hospitals and to a University of Wyoming geriatric class.

Long-Term Care, which includes swing bed, nursing home facilities, and state licensed shelter care, is managed within the division. The program has provided care for approximately 1,763 Medicaid recipients in the most appropriate, accessible and cost-effective manner. Currently, Medicaid recipients occupy 62.45 percent of nursing facility beds.

Nutrition
Statewide, the Title III-C Elderly Nutrition Program served 1,229,251 congregate and home-delivered meals to eligible participants. This is an increase of 32,615 meals from the previous year. The division also implemented a reimbursement system for eligible meals and increased the reimbursement rate by 10 cents a meal.

Senior rights
The Long Term Care Ombudsman Program served more than 900 individuals with long-term concerns. The division actively participates in the newly formed Elder Fraud and Abuse Prevention Task Force.
Senior employment and volunteerism

The division developed a one-year State Senior Employment Services Coordination Plan for the Department of Labor. This plan provides an overview of the program, how the funds are used and the eligibility for participation in the program. A list of the service providers and the counties they serve is also described.

The division has played an active role in Wyoming's implementation of the Workforce Investment Act, ensuring the needs of Wyoming's older citizens will be met.

The division has assisted in the expansion of the Senior Companion Program to a statewide program that serves homebound older adults. The division also continues to support the Foster Grandparent Program and the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program.

Mission and philosophy

The roles of public health agencies are assessment, assurance and policy development. With these roles in mind, the mission for the division is to assure the development of systems of health services for Wyoming residents.

These systems must be family-centered, coordinated and community-based, culturally appropriate, cost effective and efficient; they must provide for improved outcomes and all components must be accountable to the health of the community. The purpose of system development is to utilize the existing services to assure quality healthcare and improved outcomes.

Results of outcomes

Infant mortality in Wyoming has declined from 7.0 to 6.9/100,000 in comparison to a higher national percentage of 7.1; likewise, the teen birth rate in Wyoming is doing better than the national average: 40.4 in comparison to 49.6. Low birth weight for 1999 data showed Wyoming at 8.3 percent in comparison to 7.6 percent for the nation.

A 1999 survey of oral health among third-graders showed that 71 percent of the students had dental sealants, in comparison to only 23 percent for the nation, with 8,155 sealants provided last year.

Immunizations were provided in the amount of 201,000 individual doses to approximately 121,000 children and more than 54,000 adults. Work was concluded on provider increases to certain components of the Medicaid program in Wyoming.

An immunization registry development was started and will be available statewide in the future. Pilot testing occurred in FY01.

The Kid Care Program was initiated Dec. 1, 1999, and the latest fiscal year ended with approximately 2,800 new children receiving medical benefits.

Mission and philosophy
The division's primary responsibilities during FY01 were the child and adult programs.

The mission is to provide funding and guidance responsive to the needs of at least 3,622 people with developmental disabilities to live, work and learn in Wyoming communities. Individuals with developmental disabilities range in age from infants and toddlers to senior adults. These individuals may have mental retardation — or close-related condition — or other developmental disability. In FY01, the division was selected by the federal Health Care Financing Agency as one of the six states to be studied for exemplary practices and statewide system development.

Results of outcomes
The waiting list for all services at the end of the year included 10 eligible children waiting for the children's Medicaid home- and community-based waiver.

Strategic plan changes
Continue to try to keep the waiting list as small as possible. It is anticipated that the number of people who are eligible but waiting for service may climb to 40 adults and 166 children.

In addition, the Office of Health Quality reviews preliminary architectural plans for the construction of new healthcare facilities as well as the renovation of existing facilities. During the past 12 months, 38 preliminary plans were reviewed and 89 on-site inspections were conducted.

Results of outcomes

Mission and philosophy
The Office of Rural Health's mission is to improve the delivery of healthcare services in rural and frontier areas through education, service, research and policy analysis, and to foster cooperation and coordination between state agencies and statewide healthcare associations. This is accomplished by providing recruitment and retention assistance through a public/private partnership with Wyoming Health Resources Network Inc., and providing technical assistance and rural health information to organizations seeking rural outreach, networking and rural health grants. The Office of Rural Health is providing support to the Governor's Telemedicine Steering Committee effort to improve the healthcare for Wyoming residents by facilitating the development, use and access for telehealth networks and systems in the state.

Promoting collaboration
The Wyoming Primary Care Office was established to promote state, federal, local and private sector collaboration in expanding comprehensive, community-based primary care services for underserved and vulnerable populations. The office provides assistance to primary care, mental health and dental health professionals seeking access to the National Health Service Corp (NHSC) Loan Repayment program. The NHSC program places healthcare professionals in identified shortage areas for a period of two or more years as a requirement of the loan repayment assistance program.

The principal responsibility is to improve primary care access of the underserved and vulnerable populations in Wyoming. Primary Care Offices are expected to educate the above entities on primary care issues and concerns, and to foster collaboration between their constituency and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Providing assistance
The Wyoming Rural Hospital Flexibility Program mission assists small hospitals in rural and frontier areas to maintain and improve the delivery and access to healthcare services. The program goals are:

• develop an overall Wyoming Rural Health Plan that increases the access and availability of healthcare services in rural and frontier areas of the state;

• provide technical assistance to primary care, hospital and emergency medical care systems in the analysis and development of specific programs or solutions; and

• help strengthen the viability of the healthcare providers by assisting the hospital in determining the best healthcare system for the community.

The Critical Access Hospital program will be made available to all small rural hospitals that meet the national criteria or the Wyoming-specific necessary provider criteria.

Technical assistance funding will be provided to small rural hospitals interested in conversion of the current facility to a Critical Access Hospital.
Results of outcomes
To provide access to information, technical assistance and grant funding to healthcare providers in rural and frontier areas, and assure the continued delivery of primary healthcare services in all areas of Wyoming.

Budget information

Federal fund $5,832,819
Trust $270,450
Total $8,332,887

Mission and philosophy
The preventive health and safety division's mission is to promote health by preventing and controlling disease and injury.

The division seeks to provide community-focused services and programs to meet the public health needs of the residents of Wyoming.

A key goal of this community-focused approach to public health is to use epidemiologist and surveillance to continuously assess community public health needs, and when deficiencies are noted, work with local resources to meet identified needs.

Results of outcomes
For 2001, the preventive health and safety division had 14 programs with outcomes written in the Wyoming Department of Health strategic plan. They include:

- epidemiologist,
- HIV/AIDS Prevention,
- lead/radon,
- poison control,
- Public Health Laboratory,
- sexually transmitted diseases,
- tuberculosis,
- vital records,
- breast and cervical cancer,
- cancer surveillance,
- diabetes,
- emergency medical services, and
- bioterrorism.

Once again, approximately 60 percent of the programs have met or exceeded expectations of their stated goals and outcomes. Among these were Poison Control, Sexually Transmitted Diseases, Tuberculosis, Vital Records, Diabetes, Emergency Medical Services and Bioterrorism.

Strategic plan changes
Work has begun to put together the next generation of Strategic/Healthy People 2010 Plan. As reported last year, the Healthy People 2010 (HP2010) are national objectives funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and executed by the Institute for the Future. The HP2010 goals are a long range, 10-year plan.

Based on goals
Once a 10-year goal is established, then a program will be evaluated each year as required by statute. The strategic plan is based on four-year goals, so an opportunity in four years will be possible to “tweak” the outcome and action plan toward achieving the 10-year goals. Combining the two will minimize the time program managers will need to spend on gathering data. Programs not required to participate in the strategic plan will also be asked to establish a goal from HP2010.

Wyoming Statute 9-2-106 was amended in 1998 giving the Wyoming Department of Health director the authority to allow state institutions to provide services to persons with conditions other than those specified in Title 25 of the Wyoming statutes. Mission and philosophy
The mission of the Wyoming State Training School is to provide services to individuals living in Wyoming who have a diagnosis of mental retardation or other disability with need for similar services. The staff’s approach to the mission is that each person is supported to lead a fulfilling life that is founded on practical skills, inclusion, new experiences and choices based on interests and abilities. The Wyoming State Training School pursues its mission with the belief* that:
1) life in the community is a basic human right, not a privilege to be earned;
2) each individual has a right to participate in normal everyday life;
3) each individual can grow and develop;
4) all individuals and employees should be treated with dignity;
5) individual autonomy should only be subject to state intrusion to the absolute minimal extent necessary to receive appropriate supports and services;
6) an individual’s rights should be cherished, valued, protected and actively promoted;
7) services should be provided in a manner which meets the needs of the individual, regardless of funding eligibility or participation in any particular government program; and
8) individuals, parents and guardians should play an active and meaningful role in the development and implementation of appropriate supports and services in accordance with the individual’s Individual Program Plan (IPP).
